

HOPE OF THE FUTURE

The Carson Tribune says

Our State has passed a momentous year in its history and to many the cloud of adversity appears heavy indeed, but that murky cloud has yet a small silver edge indicative of coming prosperity. We have passed through the troublous times incident to all new mining countries and the force of circumstances has directed attention to other and more lasting industries. The mining and apparently eclipsed Comstock has sent brains and muscle to other parts of the State by which means great material deposits have been found, and before the coming year shall have joined the interminable line of those gone before, Nevada may again claim the title of the wonder of the world.

Our agricultural land is receiving much attention and best equals in quality any in the new or old world, we are getting to be a wool producing State, and during the coming year all the flour consumed will be made from wheat raised in our home valleys. Pork raised in Nevada is selling at a less price in San Francisco and before another winter sets in there will be more than one ham and bacon factory in Western Nevada. Energy and capital is all that is needed to make Nevada one of the most prosperous States in the Union, and fortunately the hitherto lax, easy going ones are awakening to the necessity of conjoint effort. So, taking these views of existing circumstances and the probability of a prosperous future, A Happy New Year may be reasonably hoped for.

The Belmont Courier also says

Ere another Courier reaches its readers 1886 will have been added to the years that are gathered. Brighter times have been experienced than those which have favored us during the year just closing, but darkest days must have an end, just as sure as the longest line has a turn. Therefore instead of looking back and deploring, let us look forward to a year of prosperity commencing with 1886 that will cause the hearts of the saddest to gladden with joy unprecedented. Silver, the source of most of our joys and our woes in Nevada, will come out all right in the end, and a hundred years hence, when we are cold and stiff, Nevada will be one of the wealthiest States in the Union, and Belmont will sport a cathedral and a bishop. Livelier times are in store for us, and, therefore, the Courier wishes its readers "A Happy New Year."

Sharon's Estate in Washington

The agents of the estate in Washington of the late ex-Senator Sharon, of Nevada, Thursday placed on record a deed, made by Sharon November 4, 1885, a short time before his death, by which he transfers all his property in Washington and elsewhere to his son, Fred G. Sharon, and his son-in-law, Francis G. Newlands, in trust for the heirs, who are mentioned in the deed by name, and the division of the estate described. All of Sharon's property in Washington has been withdrawn from the market, but as soon as the trustees notify the agents the property belonging to this estate, which consists of unimproved property lying entirely in the heart of the most fashionable part of the city, and valued at a quarter of a million dollars, will be placed on the market again. Most of this property was acquired by Sharon in satisfaction of a trust which he had given to ex-Senator Stewart and Judge Sunderland, members of the famous California syndicate which in 1871 bought large blocks of land in the northwestern section of Washington.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, Mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians to be found in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-1886-1yr

STANFORD ON SILVER.

As predicted by the JOURNAL at the time he was elected Senator Stanford will stand by Nevada on the silver question. He has just been interviewed in New York and said: "Public opinion is all one way on that question. We believe in the use of both gold and silver for coin. We do not believe in shutting off silver. It is distinctly the people's money. If a poor man is hoarding money in his stocking it is silver you will find there. We don't want to make it any harder for him to get silver. Public opinion in fact is not so different East from what it is West on this point, except in banking circles in New York, Philadelphia and Boston. We believe that silver should be protected just as much as iron and coal. We pay in California 75 cents per bushel on coal, in order that the fortunate possessor of coal mines in Pennsylvania may be protected against some little mines in Canada, above Portland, Or. If we are not to have protection on silver we are not able to see why there should be protection at all. The railroads with which I am connected have paid $12,000,000 more for the iron and steel with which they are constructed than we would have paid if there had not been a protective tariff on those metals. If they should be protected, why not silver? We say, protect them all."

"Will there be any legislation on silver?"

"I think not. It is possible that something may be done to increase the amount of metal in silver coins. That would not be unfair. The Government, however, puts out a paper dollar that is worth nothing and redeems it at par. We do not see why there should be any objection to its putting out 87 cents, or a 95-cent dollar, and redeeming it at par. The Government is the gainer thereby."

NEVADA RECOGNIZED

The San Francisco Call says: Making reasonable allowance for rosy views, there is no doubt that Nevada is looking up, and promises to resume something of her old standing as a producer of bullion.

Jay Gould retires from the street today, says the New York Mail and Express of December 31st with $48,000,000 regular dividend paying stock in Western Union, Missouri Pacific and Manhattan Elevated to say nothing of a very large amount of stock and bonds of other corporations.

The New Year's edition of the San Francisco Daily Alta California is a magnificent publication, and its proprietors deserve great credit for such a meritorious issue. Under the new and vigorous editorial management of Col John P. Irish the old Alta is being placed in the front rank.

The New York Herald says: How many supporters is the administration going to have in Congress? It is whispered about Washington that even the President has become curious on this interesting point, and that, in fact, he is very curious about it.

The San Francisco Chronicle's New Year's quintuple sheet was an exhibition of the rapid progress made by this remarkable paper, and a showing of the mammoth strides in Pacific Coast journalism. The Chronicle is always ahead of the times.

The holiday number of the Sacramento Record-Union was up to the usual standard and a highly creditable production.

It is expected that the public debt statement for December will show an increase of about $2,000,000.

General Land Commissioner Sparks denies that he has any intention of resigning.

President Cleveland has given $100 to the Grant monument fund.

SAGEBRUSH APPRECIATED

In its magnificent New Year's issue the San Francisco Chronicle says of our State:

The history of this State, since its admission into the Union in 1864, has exhibited remarkable fluctuations, at times for the better, at others for the worse, yet its advancement has been steady, though quiet. The marvelous production of its famous Comstock lode, pouring hundreds of millions in silver and gold into the financial pool of the world, is a matter of historical record. The culmination, however, in that respect came ten years ago, since which time no new Comstock bonanzas of comparative magnitude has been developed, although well organized and systematically persistent effort has not been wanting. During the last two or three years less attention has been paid to the deep workings of the Comstock, and more to the extraction of lower grade ores passed by in the early and richer workings of the upper and bonanza levels. The same may be said of Eureka, the next locality in mining importance, and of others. Deep explorations still continue in the middle portion of the Comstock, the lowest depth being 3100 feet, attained last summer by the Combination shaft, the lowest levels of the Chollar, Hale & Norcross and Savage mining companies the deepest on the American continent.

There has been an increase in the bullion production during the past two years from smaller new mines and reopened old ones in the northern eastern and southern parts of the State, but the most promising mining section at present is that traversed by the Carson & Colorado Railroad. During the past few months Hawthorne mining district on the line of this railroad, in Esmeralda county, has come into prominent importance through the discovery of more valuable gold and silver mines, the principal of which is the Lupanita, a small decomposed vein two or three feet in width, of very rich gold ore. It was discovered in the early part of the past year and during the last three months its systematic working has produced over forty million dollars in gold bullion, worth $19 per ounce. Its rich future promises increases with future development. The production of borax and soda has been developed into an extensive and important industry by means of this road, which has also become the practical outlet to the Bodie mining section, as well as of the rich agricultural and mineral region of Inyo county, in California. The recent discovery of a quarry of the finest kind of marble, the property of the Inyo Marble Company, was induced and promoted by this road, and shipments of that valuable commodity are being made to San Francisco and Sacramento. Large quantities of sulphur and salt come from Humboldt and other localities along the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, the supply being unlimited, or fully equal to the demand for all practical purposes.

The agricultural interests of Nevada have never been properly understood or appreciated until of recent years. Wherever the all prevalent sagebrush grows, most luxuriantly is found the richest and deepest loamy soil, which only requires a little irrigation to make it as productive as any in the world. Year after year, especially along the lines of the railroads, these formerly desert lands are cleared and reclaimed from their sagebrush condition, and hundreds of valuable acres added to the agricultural resources of the State. These lands yield three or four good crops of alfalfa per season, heavy crops of grain, vegetables of all kinds and even tobacco, which popular weed grows wild among the sagebrush all over the State. Special transportation rates being granted over the Central Pacific Railroad, grain, the finest potatoes in the world and other articles of produce are now shipped to California and elsewhere with profit. Last Summer and Fall breeders and owners of fine blooded horses in the East, as well as California, having discovered that the natural grasses, or hay of Nevada, are superior to any they can obtain elsewhere in nutrition and other desirable qualities, owing doubtless to the peculiar advantages of climate, as well as soil, made through their agents some heavy purchases and shipments, regardless of the great cost of transportation, thus adding another market outlet for Nevada products.

Owing perhaps to comparative absence of certain obnoxious varieties of insect life, fruits, especially apples and pears, grow to absolute perfection in most portions of the State where not injured by late frosts, the fruit being without a blemish, and of large average size, commanding the best prices in the market. Owing to unusually heavy early rains and snow the general agricultural outlook for the coming year is hopefully flattering, and the same may be said of the milling and mining interests.

Another chief leading interest and resource of Nevada is the raising of cattle, horses and sheep, owing to the fine extensive ranges of natural grasses and white sage, especially in the Eastern part of the State. This interest is a very profitable one, supplying the home market, and making constant heavy shipments both West and East on the railroad. It has been especially prosperous during the last two or three years, and promises to be still more so in the future. During the past season far more attention than heretofore has been said to the improvement of stock by better blooded importation from abroad.

The new State University at Reno, the new State Printing office at Carson, and the extension of the Nevada and California Railroad northward, are the principal features of the year in the way of public improvements.

In point of population Nevada holds her own. She is out of debt, has money in the Treasury, and will doubtless be able to maintain a similar position through future years, with due economy.

The House Committee.

Speaker Carhale has not completed the organization of his committee, but it is reported that the following Chairmanships have been agreed upon: Elections, Henry G. Turner, of Georgia; Ways and Means, Morrison, of Illinois; Appropriations, Randall, of Pennsylvania; Judiciary, J. Randolph Tucker, of Virginia; Banking and Currency, B. H. Wilkins, of Ohio; Coinage, Weights and Measures, Richard P. Bland, of Missouri; Commerce, John H. Reagan, of Texas; Rivers and Harbors, Albert S. Willis, of Kentucky; Agriculture, Wm. H. Hatch, of Missouri; Foreign Affairs, Perry Belmont, of New York; Military Affairs, A. G. Curtin, of Pennsylvania; Naval Affairs, A. S. Hewitt, of New York; Postoffices and Postroads, A. M. Dockery, of Missouri; Public Lands, Thomas E. Cobb, of Indiana; Indian Affairs, W. S. Holman, of Indiana; or Olsen Welborn, of Texas; Education, D. Wyatt Aiken, of South Carolina; Buildings and Grounds, Samuel Kibbie, of South Carolina; Pacific Railroad, James W. Throckmorton, of Texas; Labor, John O'Neill, of Missouri; Militia, Nicholas Muller, of New York; Patents, Charles L. Mitchell, of Connecticut; Invalid Pensions, C. C. Matson, of Indiana; Claims, Benton McMillan, of Tennessee; Private Land Claims, John E. Halzell, of Kentucky; District of Columbia, John S. Barbour, of Virginia.

California's Outlook for 1896

There never was a better general agricultural prospect in the history of the State than that with which 1896 opens. There has been rain enough everywhere and too much nowhere, or if there has been too much rain anywhere the excess has been confined to new swamp land districts. The rainfall has already been rather superabundant, but no damage has yet been done. The prospects for large crops of every kind are exceedingly good, says the San Francisco Call, but whether wheat, wool, fruit and wine will bring good prices this year is yet, of course, uncertain. The prospect for real estate is that residence and homestead property will not be higher, that ordinary business property will be stationary in value, because rents will certainly not advance, and will do well if they hold their own. The very choicest business property may show some advance, but the number of such cases is not likely to be large. This is the outlook as the new year opens.

A Batch of Perjurors

The Herald's Washington special says: The report from Santa Fe of the arrival there of nineteen prisoners, charged with perjury and fraudulently making use of government land, is but the beginning of a prosecution of the frauds upon the Land Office. It is understood that eighty-five warrants are out for the arrest of persons charged with violating the homestead and pre-emption laws, and that these represent a very small part of the allegations made against individuals residing in New Mexico and Wyoming. General Sparks, the Land Commissioner, says that it is not possible to apprehend all who are guilty of offenses under the law.

THE DEPOT HOTEL.

Chamberlain sells to Parry and Fitzgerald.

W. E. Chamberlain has sold the Depot Hotel to R. W. Parry and John A. Fitzgerald, the change to be made immediately. Mr. Chamberlain has felt compelled to temporarily retire from business on account of failing health of himself and wife, and desires a chance to rest. For nearly twenty years Mr. Chamberlain has been a resident of Reno, and has always been first and foremost in every good move to build up the town, and his absence, should he conclude to remove from our midst, will forever be a cause of general regret. He is a good man to have in any community. The new proprietors of the well known Depot are men in the prime of life, and thoroughly understand the business. They are very popular in this town, and with the traveling public, by reason of their associations for many years past. They will maintain the standard of excellence the hotel has, and will do well and prosper. The JOURNAL's best wishes accompany them.

Dance at Verdi.

Maurice May treated his patrons and the people of Verdi to a free dance and supper New Year's Eve. at his hotel. The music was furnished by Mr. Burns and his son William, and was first-class. Miss Lottie Burns favored the company with a few choice selections on the violin, which proved her to be a talented and thorough musician. Maurice knows how to entertain his friends, and all who attended pronounced the supper the finest they ever sat down to and the party a social success.

A Business Change.

A. H. Manning will deliver his stock of groceries to W. O. H. Martin, and hereafter will only deal in hardware, and attend to plumbing. Mr. Jaques, so long at the other store, being his head man in that line. Martin will refrain from plumbing and dealing in stoves, and confine himself to shelf hardware, groceries, etc.

A Scene of Beauty and Joy Never Surpassed in Reno.

The New Year's masquerade ball given by Amity Lodge, No. 8, Knights of Pythias, of Reno, attracted an immense crowd of maskers and spectators to Armory Hall, and the people could hardly be provided with accommodations. There were nearly 175 maskers, and 300 spectators. The costumes were new and beautiful, and the scene throughout inspiring and exhilarating. The music by the Virginia orchestra was splendid, and the little overtures between dances perfectly bewitching. The floor was under the control of Knights Chamberlain and Evans and they made everything go as merry as a marriage bell. In fact the verdict of all present was that the Knights had more than maintained their reputation, and that the ball had never been surpassed in the town. The Greenway group, composed of Mrs. R. H. Lindsay, Mrs. S. D. King, Mrs. Dr. Bergstein, Miss Julie Michelson of Virginia, Miss Ella Geiger of Virginia, Miss Mamie Michelson, Miss Frankie Grippen and Miss Kitty Grippen, received a cash prize of $12. R. H. Lindsay, as "Father Time," received an elegant toilet set for the best sustained character. Wm. Dixon was given a clock for the most original character, he being gotten up as a bale of hay. Mrs. H. J. Thyes, in the costume of a Mexican lady, was awarded the silver water pitcher for being the best dressed lady, while Charles Derby, attired as Romeo, was given the gold headed cane for being the best dressed gentleman. Among those present taking part in costume, a JOURNAL reporter noted the following:

Mrs. H. J. Thyes was a Mexican girl.
Grace Griswold, Christmas.
Mrs. R. Nash, old year—1885.
Mary Donahue, domino.
R. Bagley and daughter, May, organ-grinder and tamborine girl with little dog.
Miss Leona Rainous, fire-girl.
Mrs. J. Cannon, fire-girl.
Zua Harding, stars and stripes.
Mrs. Campbell, night.
Mrs. Frost, morning.
Mrs. Beemer, barbarian broom girl.
Mrs. Schooling, domino.
Ricka Becker, mountain maiden.

The Carson Trust.

Friday afternoon General Clarke, attorney for the Citizens' Committee to secure the reopening of the Carson Mint, called at the Mint with a bar of gold and silver bullion, and $500 in $20 pieces. He asked that the bullion be coined, and was refused by Superintendent Garrard. He then asked that it be parted and refined, and run into bars. This was refused. He then demanded subsidiary coin for the $500, and that the Superintendent appoint a Chief Clerk, Weighing Clerk and Cashier, as the law directed. All the requests were refused, on the ground that he had orders to close the Mint and discharge all the officers from Secretary Blanning. H. S. Mason, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee, acted as witness, and a mandamus suit will be commenced to compel the Superintendent to comply with the demands made by the Citizens' Committee through their attorney. This is part of the fight being made by the silver men to compel the Government to obey the law regarding Mints. The suit will come up before Judge Sabin, in the United States Court, and, if necessary, will be taken to the Supreme Court.

Harry Clawson.

The Ogden Herald says:
Mr. H. A. Clawson, of the Union Depot Hotel, made the employees of his popular resort happy, by presenting them each with a handsome "Christmas gift." The employees of Mr. Clawson number about seventeen men, and the generous proprietor distributed among them and others, about $500 worth of presents.
The Ogden News says:
The hotel at Ogden depot is not run by the P. H. Company. The proprietor of this house is H. A. Clawson. He is not a subordinate, or tally clerk, or manager for the Pacific Hotel Company. Every dollar's worth of his provisions, etc., is bought in Ogden. Every expense is so much benefit to Ogden, and we say, without fear of contradiction, that he has the best kept, the nicest, and most perfect, hotel like establishment on the U. P. line from Ogden to Omaha.
